

FOOTBALL ON SATURDAY

The Marshfield and Merrillan High School Teams Meet.

Game Called at Ten O'Clock in the Forenoon.

One of the unexpected features of the street fair and carnival will be a hotly contested game of football at the fair grounds Saturday morning between teams representing the Marshfield and Merrillan High schools, and such carnival visitors as enjoy the great college sport will be given an opportunity to see a hard struggle on the grid-iron. The two teams are evenly matched and will make a most interesting fight for victory.

There has been considerable rivalry between these two teams during the past two years and this is looked upon as the deciding game. In the fall of 1900 the two eleven's played a tie game 5 to 5 and last year the Merrillan lads won out 5 to 0, but the local crowd is confident this year and will make a powerful effort to win. Both teams are a trifle heavier on the average than heretofore and they have profited by the training of two hard seasons.

The boys at the Marshfield High school have had the best opportunity this year in football that was ever offered a team here, having been coached by Emil Scow, the famous University of Wisconsin center, and they have learned many new and effective plays along the line of the Wisconsin tactics. The following will be the line-up of the eleven: Center, Vannedom; right guard, LeMahieu; left guard, Witt; right tackle, W. Lees; left tackle, Pulling; right end, H. Lees, captain; left end, Cournoyer; quarter-back, E. Leahy; right half-back, L. Scannell; left half-back, L. Rowe; full-back, Art Leahy.

In order to avoid any conflict with other fair attractions the game will take place Saturday morning instead of in the afternoon, the game being called at 10 o'clock.

Death of Dr. A. M. Corbett.

It is our sad duty this week to chronicle the death of one of Marshfield's leading citizens, Dr. Adelbert M. Corbett, who passed away quietly Monday night at 9:30, surrounded by his family and many loving friends. Dr. Corbett suffered a severe stroke of paralysis several weeks ago, and though at first it was thought he would recover, complications set in which caused his death Monday night.

The deceased was born at Greenbush, Sheboygan county thirty-five years ago this October, where his parents and two sisters still reside. He came to Marshfield a year ago last January from Rib Lake and had worked up an excellent practice in his chosen profession. He leaves a wife, an adopted child, a father and mother and two sisters to mourn his loss.

Funeral services were held at the home Wednesday afternoon and the remains were taken to Greenbush on the Northwestern limited early this morning for interment. Mrs. Corbett will return to Marshfield in about a week and will then decide on her future plans, but at the present time is unable to state whether she will remain in this city or not.

The widow and other relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their late bereavement.

Found a Monstrosity.

One of the most remarkable natural curiosities ever discovered in this country was unearthed in the town of Lincoln this week, and will be exhibited here during the carnival. The anomalous animal is a cross between a sheep and a hog, showing some of the characteristics of each, and has been named by the present owners a Schat-Schwein. The curiosity was raised by John Anderson on his farm six miles west of the city and is a year old. It resembles a sheep more than a hog in build, but is much larger than the ordinary sheep, weighing about 300 pounds. The animal is healthy and lively, has the body of a sheep and the head and limbs of a hog and grunts like a hog, though covered with a heavy coat of wool. The Schat-Schwein is now in the hands of a Marshfield syndicate and will be exhibited in a tent as one of the star attractions of the fair. Don't fail to see it.

J. W. Cameron Left No Will.

The late James W. Cameron, who died suddenly while out driving near Milwaukee a few weeks ago, left no will, and on petition of his wife, Mrs. Mary F. Cameron, and son, Frank J. Cameron, Judge Carpenter on Monday appointed Walter S. Paddock of Milwaukee, administrator of the estate and directed that he give a bond of $1,036,000. The estate consists of $500,000 in personality and $18,000 in real estate.

A Painful Accident.

Frankie Tice, the little son of F. E. Tice, living on Third street, met with a painful accident last Saturday which cost the child the end of his right thumb. Mrs. Tice had opened the cover to the refrigerator, which was very heavy, and while her back was turned the child pulled it down, the heavy cover catching the thumb at the first joint, crushing the member so badly that it had to be amputated.

Fred Upham's Aunt Robbed.

Mrs. C. M. Upham of Shawano, the aunt of Fred W. Upham, formerly of this city, and a sister-in-law of Hon. W. H. Upham, was held up on the streets of Chicago Tuesday morning at 11:00 o'clock by six men and robbed of a diamond brooch valued at $1,000 and $50 in money. The robbery took place at the corner of State and Adams streets with hundreds of people and several policemen in the immediate vicinity. The six men crowded around Mrs. Upham and while several of them pinioned her arms to her side one of the men tore the brooch from her gown and another wrenched the purse containing the money from her hand. The robbery was one of the boldest which has taken place in Chicago in many years.

Beggar Prince Next Wednesday.

An unusual attractive combination of fun and music is presented in the Beggar Prince Comic Opera Co. which will be seen at the opera house next Wednesday night.

The people engaged in the production have been selected especially for their respective vocal ability to portray the parts assigned them. They are all singers and dancers, and incidentally to the opera, several pleasing specialties will be introduced.

As a laughing success nothing has ever been constructed that comes nearer filling the bill than the "Beggar Prince," and in its re-constructed form it has everywhere been well received.

The active demand for seats indicates that the audience which will greet them will be large and that it will be a well pleased one goes without saying.

Edgar Creamery in New Hands.

Ralph Fuller, of the Fuller & Hathaway Creamery Co., was called to Edgar Friday to consult with the farmers of that locality who desire the Marshfield creamery men to take hold of the creamery at that place. The Edgar creamery has been run on the co-operative plan by the farmers residing near Edgar for some time, but the results have not proved satisfactory and they have now made Mr. Fuller a proposition to take charge of the factory and run it. The Marshfield men will take hold of the business next Monday if they are satisfied it can be put on a paying basis.

Additional Local.

The last log to be driven on the Eau Claire river, in Eau Claire county, has reached the mill and been manufactured into lumber. The first log was sawed on that stream during the winter of 1847-48. It will not be long before the last log will be driven on the Wisconsin river. A large amount is now being hauled by rail. The Wisconsin river will afford much pleasure to our citizens when that time arrives.—Wausau Pilot.

We have the calling card name plates which were left at Mrs. Tiffault's and would be pleased to fill orders for the latest styles of cards with or without plates.—Sexton Bros.

Principal R. B. Johns, representing the new School of Agriculture and Domestic Economy at Wausau, was in the city Wednesday. The new school which is the second institution of its kind to be established in this country will open its first term October 6th with an attendance of about two hundred pupils. The school offers separate courses for boys and girls and is an admirable preparatory school for the practical lines of education.

Homer Creed of the village of Unity and Nina BeVier of the city of Colby. Edward C. Young of the city of Wausau and Barbara Schneck of the village of Edgar.

Jacob Thomas announces that on or about October 15th he will open a general store in the old Gustafson building with a complete stock of general merchandise, consisting of dry goods, groceries, shoes and gent's furnishing goods. 48t1

We wonder if the Marshfield ladies who have purchased silk dress patterns during the past week from a representative of a Milwaukee firm who has made a house to house canvass of the city, realize that their husbands are in business here and expect to receive the patronage of Marshfield people and a majority of them would have to look for a new location if everybody did their trading out of town. Trade with your home merchants, if they don't carry in stock what you wish, have them send for it, they will guarantee as good a quality and value as any traveling peddler.

The announcement is made by the Marshfield Woman's club that the Deuling hall on Central Ave. which is leased for three years by the club, may be sub-rented by individuals, other clubs or lodges at reasonable prices. Address all inquiries to Mrs. J. C. Hayward. 45t4

Paper manufacturing companies in the Fox River valley, as well as many on the Wisconsin river and other localities in this state, have been approached by a representative of a firm of Chicago brokers and promoters, with a request to grant options for the sale of their property running until Jan. 1, 1903, the intention being to buy all the paper mills in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, and form them into a new trust, to be called the American Consolidated Paper company, to be capitalized at $30,000,000. Two or three months ago intimations were received by some of the manufacturers that a plan of this kind was on foot. It was stated at that time that the men back of the enterprise were in command of financial resources which would be amply sufficient to carry the enterprise through to a successful conclusion provided the necessary options could be obtained.—Grand Rapids Reporter.
